			2. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Economic Migration (rules for employment of foreign workers) was before 1 July 2014 a shared competence of the Federal Ministry Employment, Labour and Social Dialogue (legislation/framework), while the implementation of the legislation was, to a large extent, the competence of the Regions.
	Bulgaria	Yes	1) In Bulgaria the following institutions are currently responsible for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Citizenship policy – Ministry of Justice; • Policy on legal migration – Ministry of Interior; • Policy on international protection – State Agency for Refugees. 2) No. 3) N/A
	Estonia	Yes	1. The Estonian Ministry of the Interior develops citizenship, migration and asylum policy. The policies are mainly implemented by the Police and Border Guard Board (PBGB) under the Ministry of the Interior, which is involved in processing applications of Estonians, aliens and citizens of the European Union. Although the decision-making capacity (e.g., granting a residence permit, asylum etc.) lies with the Police and Border Guard Board. The Ministry of Foreign Affairs is responsible for visa issues. The Ministry of Social Affairs is responsible for accommodation of asylum seekers operated by external service provider (Vao Accommodation Centre for Asylum Seekers). 2. No 3. N/A
	Finland	Yes	1. The Ministry of the Interior is responsible for developing policies on citizenship, migration and asylum (including reception of asylum seekers). The Ministry for Foreign Affairs is responsible for visa policy. 2. The responsibility for the reception policy was transferred from the Ministry of Labour to the Ministry of the Interior at the beginning of 2008. 2.1 The administration and policy development related to migration was combined under one ministry in order to make it more efficient: the ministry responsible for the asylum process took responsibility over the reception system for asylum seekers. This made it possible to observe on the level of the government budget how the efficiency (or correspondingly the delays) in the asylum process are causing significant savings (or costs) for the reception system. This change (comprehensive responsibility under one ministry) was recommended e.g. by the National Audit Office of Finland.
