1. Background Information

Estonian Ministry of Justice with partners has started implementing new strategy for reducing violence for the years of 2015-2020, the strategy will include as one of the objectives tackling the human trafficking. One of the problematic areas we need to focus is awareness raising and preventive activities to the general public. In this respect discussions from the strategy working groups have lead us considering establishing common website for the trafficking issue, which focuses has 2 purposes, to address the information to the general public and also to the specialists and stakeholders working on the field. At the moment the theme of trafficking is covered in different websites and it is not so easy to find the data about contacts of NGOS giving assistance, about research, about explanations what trafficking is, etc.

Also, we are planning several prevention activities under the new strategy, incl. media campaigns (either online, using modern devices (mobile apps), poster campaign on the streets etc.) about trafficking, its different forms, etc.

We are looking for your help in giving us information to the following questions:

			trafficking. A petition was signed by 102,911 persons in Belgium, calling for: (i) the creation of Police units specializing in identification of unaccompanied minors and child trafficking, (ii) the establishment of more residential options and shelters to provide assistance to child trafficking victims especially in smaller cities, and (iii) the review of the conditions to obtain ‘trafficking victim’ status as well as residential status for children victims of trafficking. In December 2011, shortly after the formation of the new government, ECPAT Belgium was contacted by the cabinet of the new Minister of Interior and Equality of Chances, in order to implement the measures listed in the petition. - ECPAT Belgium is an associate partner in the three-year project (2012-2015) “Don’t look away”. coordinated by ECPAT France and implemented in 22 European countries and outside Europe (Africa/ South America). A campaign was started to mobilize local and foreign tourists (traveling to Brazil to watch the World Cup), encouraging them to report any incident related to crimes of sexual exploitation nature involving children and adolescents. Posters, pamphlets and films will be in the airports, bus stations, subways and other places of major tourist flow. Under the project “Don’t Look Away”, a new European platform for reporting cases of child sexual exploitation abroad has been created. This website enables individuals to report suspected cases of child sexual exploitation even if they are abroad through providing links to existing national online reporting mechanisms. Where no national reporting mechanism exists, this website provides alternative information on how to report. Other initiatives were taken in Belgium aimed at specific sectors: - Diplomatic posts (2009): a flyer was made available to be distributed to “work visa” applicants to inform them on THB. The flyer provided information on elements to be checked with the employer before departure and contact details in Belgium if having problems while on the Belgian territory. - Social services in hospitals and hospital staff (2009-2011): a brochure aimed at raising awareness among hospital staff concerning the trafficking problem (“Trafficking in human beings - what to do? Advice for hospital staff”), prepared by the interdepartmental unit, has been distributed in all Belgian hospitals. Accompanying posters have also been put up in hospitals. In its report from 25 September 2013, the GRETA welcomed this good practice concerning hospital staff as it believes that it is important to raise awareness of those actors who may play a significant role in detecting victims of THB. Another example of prevention campaign targeted at a sector at risk (construction industry) was part of a co-operation project set up in 2009, involving several partners in Brazil and Belgium (police, welfare inspectorate, Ministry of Foreign Affairs) as well as the IOM. It was established following the identification of a number of Brazilian building workers who were victims of trafficking in Belgium. Beside the prevention campaign aimed at vulnerable communities in Brazil, exchanges of information between the Belgian and Brazilian authorities, information sessions for the Brazilian NGOs in Belgium and a telephone line providing information in Portuguese on the possibilities of legal migration to Belgium were developed.

One bigger campaign was done in 2003, there were posters and also articles about THB, the slogan was: “You are sold as a toy”. Unfortunately there are no materials available online. In 2014 there is a plan to have the campaign to support persons getting jobs without frauds done by the companies organizing the working places. Most probable the campaign will take place in the autumn 2014, the exact time is not clear yet.
	Finland	Yes	1) Finland has the www.ihmiskauppa.fi website that has originally been created by a multiagency group including several ministries, agencies and NGOs. Towards the end of 2012, the Immigration Service's and National assistance system's Hapke-project took over the updating and further development of the site. The site has four sections: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. HELP - basic information / contact details for the national assistance system available soon in 15 different languages including a printable flyer that any NGO or a member of public can use in outreach, campaigns, or awareness raising. Also includes the emergency number and a link to the police net tip site.</li> <li>2. Haetko apua? (Are you searching for help?) - Information in simple Finnish for a person helping a victim or for a victim who is searching for help for him or herself. The simple Finnish text has been converted by a long term Finnish for foreigners teacher, who has experience of the form of language many newly arrived immigrants can understand.</li> <li>3. Haetko tietoa? (Are you searching for information?) - More complex and detailed information targeted at professionals, researchers, and the general public.</li> <li>4. Palaute (Feedback) - A form that the site sends to National assistance system for feedback and contacts. We have received messages from potential victims through this medium, as well as various requests and feedback on the site.</li> </ol> The National assistance system for victims of trafficking and the Finnish Immigration Service would be more than happy to share their experience of developing the www.ihmiskauppa.fi site as part of the Hapke-project to support the work being done in Estonia. Our contacts here are Olli Snellman, the Finnish Immigration Service (olli.snellman@intermin.fi) and Inkeri Mellanen, the National assistance system (tel. +358-2954 63236, heli.mellanen@intermin.fi / ihmiskauppa.auttamisjarjestelma@intermin.fi). 2) Hapke 1 &amp; 2 (The development project for the vulnerable asylum seekers' service provision system in Finland) is a shared project by the Finnish Immigration Service, and Joutseno and Oulu reception centres with a focus on trafficking. European Refugee Fund has been co-funding the project. Most of the work has been done within the asylum system but general public was also targeted. The project framework related to the three levels on which health and wellbeing assistance / support (should) take place: promotion (awareness raising), prevention (targeting risk groups) and corrective actions (improving ability to identify and assist the victims). This campaign included two case studies and a campaign video that was a new version of a well-known Finnish tango, Satumaa, interpreted by popular artist Paula Vesala and Jori Sjöroos. It also promoted the www.ihmiskauppa.fi website resulting in a major increase in visits to the site. The campaign featured in press, television, and the internet. It targeted the general public and has a website at http://ihmiskauppaiolesatua.fi/.

No public prevention campaign on THB has ever been conducted in France. However, the first action plan for the fight against trafficking in human beings, which was presented on 14 May 2014, proposes the launch, in 2014, of a poster campaign in targeted public places, such as airports, train/bus stations, in order to raise public awareness on THB. In future years, this action will be supplemented by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- an online awareness-raising campaign through videos circulated on social networks and institutional websites ;</li> <li>- the development of a website recording the different forms of THB and including links to other existing websites, notably the ones</li> </ul>

Aim of the campaign was to draw attention to the dangers of working abroad, provide information on the rights and opportunities of jobseekers willing to work abroad and help distressed Hungarian citizens. The Consular Service of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and the National Crisis Management and Information Telephone Service (OKIT) took part in the campaign too. The campaign aimed to inform the population about trafficking. It targeted risk groups and potential clients. Two types of brochures were developed: "Preventive measures for trafficking in persons" for the general public and "Victims' rights" for the governmental institutions coming into contact with victims of trafficking. The campaign was implemented in partnership with Ecumenical Association of the Churches from Romania (AIDRom), the Association for Developing Alternative Practices for Reintegration and Education (ADPARE) and Caritas Bucharest. The message of the campaign targeted youngsters and teenagers, but also adults leaving abroad for work or were supporters of perfect jobs due to the myths about the success stories in the West. The campaign was implemented .</li> <li>➤ From 26 June until 15 September 2008, an information and awareness campaign "Trafficking in persons is there! Take a decision TODAY...Not TOMORROW!" was conducted on the Black Sea Coast. Materials developed (1,000 posters and 10,000 leaflets) were disseminated to the public at cultural and sports events organized on the sea coast and through travel agencies to inform and sensitize people on holiday on the Black Sea Coast in order to make them aware of the trafficking in persons associated risks.</li> <li>➤ The campaign with the slogan "Euro 2008 – trafficking in persons can be a game with a high stake, even your life" was implemented during the European Football Championship 2008.
